

PRIVACY POLICY

This Privacy Policy describes the way in which we, Corporación Dinant S.A., use and protect the data we might collect, store, use, and/or share from our website's users. Our company is fully committed to our users' data being safely and responsibly managed. When we ask our user to deliberately fill out any personal information fields that can later identify them, we do it by assuring them that that data will only be used within the terms and conditions settled in this document. However, this Privacy Policy can change or be updated in time. So, we recommend and encourage you to regularly visit this website to make sure you still agree with our policy.

Gathered information

Our website might gather personal information such as: name, contact numbers, e-mail address and / or demographic information. We could also require some specific additional information to process an order, make a delivery or issue an invoice.

Use of the gathered info

Our website uses the data with the goal of providing our user with the best possible service, particularly to keep a user record of orders (when applicable) and improve our products and services in every possible aspect. It is possible that we might send e-mails periodically, through our website with special offers, new products, and some other ad information that we consider relevant for you or that we consider might benefit you in some way. These e-mails will be sent only to the address you provide, and the subscription can be cancelled at any time you decide to do so.

Corporación Dinant S.A. is highly committed to keep your data safe. We use the most advanced systems, and we update them regularly to make sure there's not any type of unauthorized access.

Cookies

A cookie refers to a text file, sent to request permission to stay in your computer or other device. By accepting this text file, it creates your own record of web traffic, and it also eases future visits to a recurring website. The cookies also help our websites to recognize you individually, allowing us to offer you the best personalized service and experience from your web. Our website uses cookies to identify the pages you visit and the frequency of these visits. This information is only used for our statistical analysis and then gets immediately and permanently deleted. You can clear your cookies anytime, from your computer's (or any other devices') browser. However, please remember that cookies help provide a better service within each website and overall browsing experience.

These will not give out any sort of access to your computer's (or any other devices') information unless you want it that way and provide it directly. You can accept or refuse the use of cookies, however most of the browsers are set to automatically accept cookies, as it betters your browsing experience. If these are refused, it is possible you are not able to optimally use some of our website's services.

Links to Third- party sites

This website may contain links to other sites that can interest you. Once you click on these links and abandon our website, we no longer have control over which site you are being redirected to.

Therefore, we are no longer responsible for the terms, conditions, privacy or protection of your data in those other Third- party sites. Please consider that such sites are subject to their own privacy policies, we strongly recommend you consult them to confirm you agree with them.

Control of your personal information

You can restrict the collection or use of personal information provided to our website at any time. Each time you are prompted to fill in a form, for example a user registration form, you can accept or refuse the option of receiving information via e-mail. In case you've marked the option to receive our news or advertising, you can cancel and opt out at any time. Corporación Dinant S.A. will not sell, give out, or distribute any of the personal information that's gathered within our websites without your consent, unless it's required by a judge with a court order.

Corporación Dinant S.A. reserves the right to modify or change the terms of the present Privacy Policy at any time.
